Description

A gents WW1 silver trench watch. The watch has a Swiss hand-winding movement which is ticking away nicely and the time keeping is good to within around five minutes over 24 hours. The watch measures 34mm diameter excluding the winding crown and the fixed wire lugs. The case is sterling silver and there are hallmarks inside the case back for Birmingham 1916, with a maker's mark for the prolific English watch case maker Dennison. The case has some marks but overall the condition is good for a WW1 piece. The watch glass has some marks but is very acceptable for an antique piece. The watch has an enamel dial. Originally the numbers would have hand painted detail. It has a good vintage look with skeletal style hands, a subsidiary seconds dial and an outer minute track. There are some faint hairline cracks to the dial although quite difficult to see with the naked eye. The watch has a vintage brown leather strap which has wear and marking but it looks very good with the watch. PRICE INCLUDES WORLDWIDE POSTAGE
