Description

A superb quality library table in ebony and amboyna. This lovely quality table has been constructed in the manner of Gillows of Lancaster being one of England's best known furniture makers, often their goods were not stamped. The quality of construction and the timber used as well as the design features all point towards Gillows as being the makers of this table. The D shape ended top having a stunning amboyna veneered central panel sits over two drawers again having inlaid amboyna panels and brass knob handles. This table is finished to all 4 sides making it able to stand freely within the centre of a room. The top being raised on fluted and gilt turnings with central turned stretcher and splayed base being highly decorated with amboyna and boxwood strung panels. An extremely fine table in excellent condition having been restored with amboyna panels that are of the finest quality with a great colour.
