Description

A lovely example of a mid 19thC Victorian centre/loo table. The table stands on a well turned and carved central pedestal with four swept arch carved legs. It is fitted with white ceramic casters. At a generous 53" X 39" (28" high) this would make an ideal dining or centre table with the added advantage that the top can be tilted and the table moved to the side of the room when not required. It is beautifully polished and has very attractive satinwood inlays and box stringing.
