Description

Antique late Victorian flamed Mahogany writing Bureau and dating from around 1890. Constructed from quality mahogany it has a flamed mahogany fall front with cross banded edge which opens to reveal a row of satinwood fronted drawers with small brass handles and cross banded edges and all of which are oak lined and above shaped pigeon holes. To the centre there is a single flamed mahogany door with cross banded edge and fine satinwood stringing. Inside there is a small drawer. It has its original green baize writing surface which does have some age related marks. Below the fall front, there is a long oak lined drawer with cross banded edge and brass handles and above a beautifully carved and shaped frieze. It stands on long cabriole legs with carved shells to the shoulders. In very good original condition with a lovely deep colour and patination and oozing all the charm and character of the period. Our furniture is cleaned and polished using traditional waxing methods.
