Description

This is a really good looking inlaid serpentine chest of drawers. It would look equally impressive in a living room or a bedroom. The four graduated drawers have very pretty boxwood inlay (see photos). The drawers are flanked by fluted columns that terminate with the turned feet. Around the bottom there is wavy boxwood inlay line (see photos). The quality of this piece is superb. It is all oak lined and despite the fact that the drawers are large they glide beautifully. There is a lot of storage room in these drawers I have taken photos outside and inside because the ones taken outside show the piece to be slightly lighter than it is. It is a lovely warm colour. This is a very attractive and unusual piece in excellent condition and needs to be seen. 120 cm wide (just under 48") 58cm deep (23") 92cm high (36")
