Description

Circa 1840-1910, we have two matching pairs of these superb copper door handles marked Push and Pull from the late Victorian period. They were made by Gibbons of Wolverhampton, and all of them are clearly marked with the makers name and registration mark just under the top of the handles, and this gives us the approximate date of manufacture. They are very heavy weighing approximately 1kg each. The handles measure about 34cm in length and 6cm in width, each one has six pre drilled holes to make for easy fitting. They are beautifully made, with an early Art Nouveau shaped handle, and are a rich copper colour but the flash of the camera has made them appear to be brass. We have priced them as a pair and included postage and packing within the UK mainland only in the price. For delivery elsewhere and abroad, please contact us for a quote to deliver. They can be viewed by appointment in Surrey as we no longer trade through a retail outlet.
