Description

Dating from around 1920, this is a very fine quality, beautifully made, brass wall light, very much in the early Art Deco style. It comes with the original hexagon holophane shade, which was made to reflect the angular design of the wall light. The patent number of the design is marked on the shade carrier. The light is made of solid brass that we had cleaned but not lacquered, and we have had the whole light rewired professionally. The flash from the camera has caused dark marks to appear to be on the brass, but in reality it is a lovely deep brass colour. It measures 33cm in length, approximately 40cm with the shade included; 28cm in height from the base of the shade to the tip of the finial, and the backplate is 10cm square, with four screw holes for easy fitting. The words MADE IN ENGLAND are cast on the back of the wall plate - see photo 5. The price includes postage and package within the UK mainland only, but we will supply quotes for delivery elsewhere.
