Description

A magnificent and early silver soup ladle from the reign of George II. This superior quality example is in Old English pattern with no monograms or initials and a lovely shell edge bowl. It is fully hallmarked and is a fine and usable piece of table silver. Usable 18th Century silver is becoming harder to find and early items from this date are particularly scarce. P&P contribution £8.00 UK £16.00 Worldwide Condition :- Excellent, with no dents or splits. Hallmarks :- Readable but slightly fading. Maker :- Stephen Adams. Date :- London 1759. Length :- 33 cms. Bowl diameter :- 9 cms.
