Description

I am delighted to offer for sale this lovely sunrise oil painting on canvas by the artist George F. Buchanan, who has signed the painting in the lower left hand corner and dated it 1881. > He has also signed, dated and entitled the painting verso on the stretcher which states 'Castle Lovat Ross-Shire Autumn Morning' G. F. Buchanan 1881. > The painting depicts a very distant view of Castle Lovat overlooking a loch, with a river winding through the valley below. The sun is rising turning the sky mauve and pink above the distant mountains. This is a beautiful painting and the artist has captured the scene so well. > ABOUT THE ARTIST There is very little known about this artist, although after considerable research, we have managed to ascertain that he was born in Portsmouth in 1820. Although in the census in both 1851 and 1861, he was living in London, he married his Scottish wife Mary MacLatchie in Ayr in 1841, with whom he had three daughters. (Her surname is queried as it was spelt several different ways) > We also know that he lived in Glasgow in the 1840s as one of his daughters was born there. Some of the auction sites give his second name as Frederick, but...
