Description

A really beautiful flame mahogany dropdial wall clock dating from 1860. The octagonal mahogany frame surrounding a 12" painted dial with black Roman numerals and superb cut hands and a brass bezel. The lower half of the case has a brass surround glazed window through which the pendulum can be seen working and a key locking door to the base. Of particular interest are the "ears" of this clock which are a beautifully carved pair of swans. The flame mahogany case has a deep, rich, warm patina commensurate with its age. There are inspection doors to both sides of the backbox. The 8 day, chain driven, fusee movement has just been fully serviced by our BHI registered staff. The clock is signed to the dial "H W Cooke, Walsall" and he is registered as working there in 1860.
