Description

Very pretty late 18th century Lincolnshire oak cased 8 day longcase clock by BOTHAMLEY of BOSTON who are very well known makers from the area. Firstly the colour and patination of the case of this longcase are absolutely superb. The case has a number of very nice features including the shaped raised panel to the base and the beautifully shaped hood door. The case has a long door with canted and fluted corners. The hood with reeded columns and nice shape top. The early painted dial with original movement with working date. The case has had a couple of old repairs but is basically in very good order. The movement has been fully cleaned and overhauled. SIZES; 83 1/2" high by 20" wide
