Description

Here we have a stunning late 18th / early 19th century demi-lume or bow-fronted George III mahogany and inlaid sideboard of large proportions. The piece has been made from the very best of timbers with ebony and boxwood line inlay throughout. Square tapered legs with original spade feet. The top with boxwood and ebony stringing and a wide cross banding. The very nice original brass rail to the back. The drawers are oak lined and have contemporary but not original brass knobs. The right hand side drawer is especially unusual as can be seen in the pictures. The condition of this piece is very good having its original finish that has been sympathetically restored. Even though it is a big piece, because of its airy design it does not look big. SIZES; 100" long by 37" wide at the widest point in the centre. 37" high to the top.
