Description

An antique Hampden Watch Co pocket watch. The watch has a stem-winding movement, Grade 109 D, which is ticking away nicely and the time keeping is good to within around two minutes or so over 24 hours. The movement is signed Canton, O (for Ohio), the location of one of the Hampden Watch Company's factories and the serial number dates it back to 1903. The movement is protected by an inner hinged cover which has a personalised inscription, possible related to a Masonic order. The watch measures 50mm diameter excluding the stem and the loop. The case is gold filled and was made by Joseph Fahys, a watch case manufacturer who traded from New York until the Great Depression. The case is in beautiful condition with charming detailing to the back. The plastic lens has very minor marking, barely noticeable to the naked eye. The white enamel dial is signed with the Hampden Watch Co name. There is one short hairline crack beneath the sub seconds dial, and two longer ones (one difficult to see, and one visible to the naked eye). PRICE INCLUDES WORLDWIDE POSTAGE
