Description

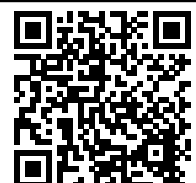

An impressive early 19th century Regency period brass-inlaid mahogany BRACKET CLOCK in perfect working order. The case is of beautifully-figured mahogany, inlaid with brass flowers within the brass-edged front corners, whilst there is a cast brass pineapple finial to the gabled top. The sides have ringed handles and brass fish-scale fret panels and it is supported on ball feet. The 8-day movement strikes hours on a bell and retains its original precision adjustable pendulum. Good painted convex dial; original hands; cast brass bezel and convex glass. A good quality bracket clock. *Signed Nicoll of London; probably William Nicoll who worked in London 1827-1858.
