Description

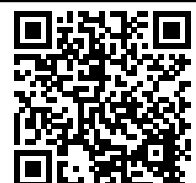

FRANCIS ATKINS, LONDON: a good and very original early 19th century Regency mahogany BRACKET CLOCK. The case is of well-figured mahogany with its cast handle set within a brass-edged "pad" top, whilst the front and sides feature brass silk-backed "fish-scale" panels. There are good mouldings to the arched top and base, and it is raised on cast ogee feet. The 8-day movement retains its original VERGE escapement, striking hours on a bell. Fine gilt hands; original painted convex dial and very fine cast brass bezel surrounding the convex glass front. Signed to both dial & movement. *Francis Atkins worked in St Clements (London) until 1809 and his son (also Francis) worked there circa 1811.
