Description

Lovely pair of early 18th century, George I or II, seamed brass candlesticks. Pretty 8 lobed multi-stepped petal bases and matching petal shape rim to the sconces. Nice baluster stems with a variety of knops and stepped knops to the nozzles also. Very nice pieces of unusual form. The measure 7 1/2" high, 4 3/8" wide across the bases and 1 3/4" across the sconce tops. The opening is 3/4" across. Condition is very good but shows expected surface signs of age and use: there is a very small hole at the seam on one, possibly original, and a few shallow dings to the nozzle rims and skirt of bases but nothing of consequence. They both have some solder in the bottom of the base.
