Description

C19th cast-lead lion's mask wall-fountain roundel. Well-defined cast lead lion's mask of good size and scale, designed as a wall-fountain/water-feature for garden, orangery or interior use. The powerfully depicted lion with an open mouth having a hole for the water spout or source. Good cast detail to the mane, eyes, teeth and nose. Has been manufactured with 4 holes to the surround to enable wall fixing and mounting. In excellent condition, with a lightly-weathered patina. Some minor discolouration from the previous fixings around the mounting holes. Highly decorative wall-mask which would work equally well in an interior or exterior setting as a fountain or simply a decorative object. Dia. 16" Depth 5" England c.1860
