Description

Here we have for sale a very old Scottish farmhouse dresser that dates from 1880. It has two decorative glazed doors that open to two shelves. The cupboard doors are mounted on the original external hinges meaning the doors will open fully. The bottom section consists of two small drawers above two full width drawers. The underside is attractive with its wavy edge and raised elegant feet. Each drawer has the original wooden knobs. Scottish furniture from this period is elaborate and interesting. We rarely stock Scottish Dresser's - this is a fine example. The top separates from the base for delivery. Height: 82", width: 50", depth: 20.5"
