Description

An absolutely superb Georgian chest of drawers, c.1790s, in mahogany. The smoothly-running drawers are lined in solid English oak – always a good sign of quality – and they retain their original brass swan-neck handles. The shaped bracket foot supports and the backing boards are also original. It has beautifully well-figured timbers with an outstanding colour and patination, and there is a working key to the top full-width drawer. It is of a desirably small size being only 36" (915mm) across the carcass. A prime example of English cabinetmaking and a fine investment. . . Width incl. overhanging top 37" (940mm) Overall height 38.25" (970mm) Overall depth 19.25" (490mm) Width not incl. overhang 36" (915mm) . . IF YOU'D LIKE TO KNOW MORE...
