Description

HENRI JACOT: a fine quality; charming and striking French CARRIAGE CLOCK of small ("three-quarter") size by this famous maker. Contained within its good Cannalee case with "gorge" ribbed handle, this pretty clock strikes hours and half-hours on a gong and retains its original lever platform escapement. Signed inside (see image); numbered 6154 and also complete with its original numbered winding key. *Henri Jacot (Snr) was responsible for very high quality carriage clocks. He died in 1868 and was succeeded by his nephew (also Henri) who continued the fine traditions of his uncle. The relatively early number of this clock suggests a date pre-1880.
