Description

VERY RARE early Scottish Wemyss ware Roseberry vase of huge proportions. This very early piece of Scottish Wemyss ware is decorated in Blue Tits among rambling roses with a balustrade beneath. Lord Roseberry, after whom this shape was named after was British Prime Minister between 1894 / 5 and was a Liberal. His estate was on the other side of the Forth from the Fife pottery Kirkcaldy. The piece is not marked but this is not unusual for the earliest and thus rarest pieces of Wemyss. There are a couple of very minor hairline cracks near the top but otherwise this is in very good condition. RARE. SIZE; 16 1/2" tall
