Description

Impressive pair of late C19th French bronze vase-bodied lamps of classical design. Tapering ovoid vase bodies with all-round relief cast decoration of dancing classical maidens or nymphs and a running 'Greek-key' type decoration ,taking it's inspiration from antiquity. The fixed cover tops each with twin entwined serpent handles and fluted detailing . Raised upon fluted square socle bases with twin steps and concave corners, and with fluted and wreath-cast decoration . Adjustable height bulb-stems with acorn finial shade holders. Excellent colour ,patina and quality , possibly by the Ferdinand Barbedienne Foundry ,Paris, but unmarked or signed. Executed in the style and manner of the C18th French sculptor Claude-Michel Clodion (1738-1814) Minor rubbing to handles. Good quality period-style fittings , can be re-wired to clients specification. (The pleated silk-lined shades are included) H(body) 19" H(overall) 33" W (handles) 9" Base 6" sq. France c. 1880
