Axbridge Georgian Longcase Grandfather Clock

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA401768*Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

A small 'cottage' Somerset longcase clock. An oak case with a flat moulded hood pediment and gilded hood capitals. A well detailed 11" square brass dial with date and seconds indicators. A silvered chapter ring and seconds dial. Fine blued steel hands and a date aperture. An 8-day duration mechanism striking the hours on a bell. James Brock of Axbridge is well documented in A J Moores' 'The Clockmakers of Somerset' book as working from 1713-1739. A very similar dial is illustrated in the book. This has been 'upgraded' to an 8-day mechanism in it's history. Height 6ft 4" / 193 cms We personally set the clock up and deliver it in the UK, please contact for a quote. Worldwide professional packing and shipping available.
