Price

SoldItem Reference: SA402925*Date of manufacture: 1850

Description

A charming and compact mid-19th century rosewood WINE TABLE, possibly by Gillows of Lancaster (but not confirmed). The well-figured octagonal top has a frieze with egg-and-dart mouldings around the lower edge, and it is supported on a particularly well-carved and turned central column, leading to 'hipped' rosewood tripod legs and "turret" feet with original brass castors. A pretty and useful occasional table. 14ins (35.5cms) diameter.
