Description

A fabulous three tier George IV mahogany whatnot with beaded drawer to the base and well turned supports and finials. The outer galleries slope gently outwards giving an elegance to the design. The whatnot stands on the original brass castors and the mahogany has a particularly good colour and patina. There are some marks and minor blemishes to the shelves as to be expected with an antique piece of this period (clearly shown in the photographs), these only add the character and authenticity of this lovely piece. This whatnot would work well in either a traditional or more contemporary interior, either displaying traditional treasures or a modern collection.
