Description

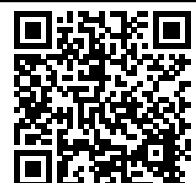

A fabulous 19th Century mahogany stool of a good size with a really beautiful lobed and pierced frieze. This antique stool has been newly upholstered in our workshop using a traditional English wool plaid. The muted tones of the fabric would sit well in most interior schemes. The stool has had some historic restoration as many antique pieces do, these can be clearly seen in the photographs. The stool is presented in great condition and is very solid and sturdy, the mahogany frame has a wonderful colour and rich patina. This unusual stool would add a stylish note to add interior.
