Description

Early C18th George II period oak drop-leaf table of small proportions. Charming diminutive-scale cottage-sized oak table with twin gate-leg action raised on rounded tapering supports terminating in pad feet. The twin rounded flaps with 'rule-edge' joints, raising to form an ovoid table. Practical folding table of portable proportions. Good rich patina and colour. Cleaned and waxed. In good usable and stable condition, with minor losses and wear to pad feet from use on stone-flagged floors. Marks to top commensurate with age and use.
