Description

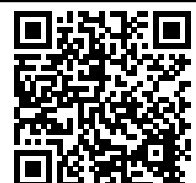

With so much antique flatware scrapped and melted, a surviving set of six dessert spoons in Old English pattern is a rare find nowadays. These are a fine matched set of six from the late Georgian/William IV period. They have no monograms or crests and would serve well as dessert or soup spoons. The set comprises two sets of three in similar size and shape. P&P contribution £8.00 UK £16.00 Worldwide Condition :- Excellent, with no dents or splits and the bowls are in good condition. . Hallmarks :- Clear and readable. Makers :- William Eaton/Thomas Smily Length :- 18 cms. Date :- London 1824/34.
