Description

Magnificent pair of late C19th carved gilt-wood Corinthian column table-lamps. Standing on ebonised block plinth bases, rising to multi-stepped bases supporting fluted classical architectural column shafts with highly-detailed and well-carved acanthus leaf wrapped and cherub-mask Corinthian caps. The caps topped by an ebonised platform with re-furbished traditional-style brass fitting and bulb-holders. Wonderful original gilding and finish. Elegant and imposing pair of classical-design lamps of good scale and presence. Have been professionally re-wired using cotton-covered '3 twist' period-style flex, have also been fitted with on-line switches. Baize covered undersides. Excellent original condition with good stability. Ready to use. H 27" Base sq. 7" England c.1900
