Description

A truly magnificent George III sugar caster of large proportions and lovely weight. This rare and desirable example has a baluster shaped body, with repeated bands of beading and stands on a raised pedestal base. The pull-off top is shaped and beautifully pierced, with engraved detail and is part hallmarked. To the underside of the base is where the full set of clear hallmarks can be found along with the original pricked initials of the owner - a lovely connection to the past. The stylish body has not been later embossed (as many 18th Century casters were) and the top is finished with a steeple finial. Examples from this period in this condition are widely sought after and are as decorative as they are practical. P&P contribution £12.00 UK £18.00 Worldwide Condition :- Excellent, with no dents, splits. Date :- London 1775 Hallmarks :- Clear and readable Maker :- Thomas Daniel Diameter of largest part :- 7 cms Height :- 18 cms
