Description

Large French Carved Oak Cupboard This is an impressive piece, it has large wonderfully carved linenfold doors, between them in the centre and along the bottom rail there is carved panel dating from the 18th Century. The sides of the cupboard are panelled and the top is also solid Oak, and these date from the 19th Century. The interior has later thick pine shelves. The sideboard is of hand made peg construction, needless to say it is very heavy, but should be possible to take it apart for transportation. The sideboard is in very good condition, with age related wear and a bit of old woodworm damage to the 18th Century carved panels. The Cupboard is 75" long, 23" deep and 48" high.
