Description

Early Ormolu Boudoir Clock by Leroy A Paris. ~ French - Circa 1850 ~ ~~ Excellent condition, fully working ~~
 A superb and early ormolu (fine gilded bronze/brass) boudoir clock by the well known maker Leroy, Paris. It features two delightful cherubim seated each side of the clock, holding a laurel wreath which is hung around an urn. The dial is enamel on copper and is signed with the makers name and has the original finely fretted gilt brass hands. Movement is visible through the glazed back door. The case is beautifully made in bronze/brass, hand chased and then gilded, the gilding is in very good condition. The Antique French movement is the early and small type of Pendule de Paris with outside hammer return spring. It features the superior pin-pallet escapement and has the makers signature on the backplate. It is in excellent clean and running condition having been fully overhauled and tested by our clockmaker. We have replaced the missing pendulum. It runs for 8 days on one wind and strikes the hours and half-hours on a bell. See the video clip below to see the clock running and striking.
