Description

This is a superb huge antique silver plated and crocodile leather hip flask in original case measuring 8" (20 cms) tall x 4 3/4" (12 cms) across x 2" (5 cms) deep. It's in excellent condition with no chips or cracks to the glass and the crocodile leather is in great condition and is a beautiful rich chestnut colour. The silver plated lid shows the mark for James Dixon & Sons with the trumpet/bugle mark that they used from 1879 onwards. The flask comes in it's original leather case marked with the initials A.T.W. and I guess that is what has kept it in such good condition over the years.
