Description

Classic late 19th.c. military campaign chest c.1880. Particularly attractive dark colour, in solid camphorwood, a fragrant and pest resistant timber used in campaign furniture as it helped protect the contents during travel in foreign climes. Superior design with a moulded plinth at the base. Exceptional original colour and patina. The handle on the lid is probably a later addition whilst the carry handles and brass bindings (partially incomplete) are original. Dimensions: width 40½", depth 21", height 20".
