Description

Fabulous late 18th century German porcelain dessert plates by the Limbach manufactory in Thuringia with crossed ticks and star mark dating for 1772-1787. Superbly painted with various garden and some more exotic birds in a tree with insects and flowers dotted around and with a pretty reticulated rim painted with a bright puce pink and with gilded rims. They measure 24cm wide and 3cm deep. Condition is excellent with just a small glaze chip to the rim of one. Very light surface wear for age and use.
