Description

Beautiful mahogany chest of two short over three long drawers dating from the early 19th Century, set on bracket feet. The top edge is inlaid with a lighter boxwood. Excellent quality, very well made and in lovely original condition with a rich patina. There is an old repair to the top surface where a small piece of wood has been replaced, it is very original and I think it adds a nice bit of character (see photo). The drawers run well and it a clean sturdy set with brass plate handles. There are the usual small signs of wear but nothing major and they display beautifully.
