Description

A large, solid antique storage cupboard dating from 1900 from France, in lovely condition. It is currently stripped to the bare wood, the price includes our professional waxing service. The internal depth of this piece is 17.5", allowing it to be deep enough to be used as a wardrobe, in our opinion it would make a lovely child's wardrobe or toy cupboard. We can remove the shelf and replace it with a new brass hanging rail if you wish - please let us know of your requirements. There is a drawer at the top which is ideal for keeping items out of reach! The double door cupboard opens to a single shelf and there is another deep drawer at the bottom. Please check your access within your home as this is one piece. Height 59", width 48.5", depth 21", internal depth 17.5"
