Description

A wonderful looking and very stylish Art Deco vintage clock/time-piece by Jaz made in France in the 1930s. This is a time-piece as oppose to a clock, so no alarm. The clock has a nice blue glass bevelled frame, with chrome/aluminium flashes to either side of the dial holding the face together. Stamped with "8 Jours (8 day) Jaz" "Made in France." It also has two chromed feet, the back is stamped with "Echappement A ancre M Pierres" and "Brevette SGD G" (This means one or more patents and without government guarantee) and modele Depose which means it is registered and Jaz. We've had this wonderful clock fully serviced by a professional. The Compagnie Industrielle de Mecanique Horlogere registered the name, Jaz, as a trademark in 1919 and used until 1941 when a bird figure was added. The Jaz company mainly known for alarm clocks but produced some 8 day clocks in 1934. Delivery £7.50
