Description

A antique leather upholstered deep buttoned Ottoman with mahogany turned bun feet and decorative brass studding. This ottoman dating to the 1900's has a beautifully deep buttoned leather upholstered lift up top with brass close nail studded edge which when open reveals a very practical storage space for magazines in the living room to bed linen in a bedroom. Sitting below the leather top is a lined leather base with decorative brass studded panels. The leather ottoman is again edged to the bottom with close nail brass studding and raised on four polished mahogany turned bun feet with a wooden mould around the base. This ottoman is of great proportions with a stunning coloured leather and can be utilized in most rooms of the house whether it be in a study, lounge, hall way, or bedroom and are often used as a coffee table.
