Description

A fine 19th Century coromandel wood tea caddy with domed top, interior with two lidded compartments and striking blue silk lining to the lid. This caddy is in lovely condition, the brass work is very decorative and there is a beautifully worked oval plaque embellishing the domed lid. This plaque in superbly worked brass relief, depicts a deer hunting scene in exquisite detail. The large decorative brass escutcheon, provides a strong decorative element to the front of the box. The lock is working and there is a key. A delightful 19th Century tea caddy for the decorator or collector. c.1850 Width: 7.75" 20cm) Height: 5.5" (14cm) Depth: 4.25" (11.5cm)
