Description

Set of 10 mid-C19th carved mahogany dining chairs in the Chippendale style. Good set of 10 (comprising 8 singles+ 2 carvers) mahogany chairs in the mid C18th style to the designs of Thomas Chippendale. Well-carved elaborate interlaced open splat backs with leaf-carving detail and flamboyantly-shaped top-rails with leaf-carved 'ears'. The broad serpentine-fronted seats with 'drop-in' seat pads, raised on shaped cabriole legs with acanthus leaf carving to the knees and terminating in 'claw-and-ball' feet. The larger-proportioned pair of armchairs with conforming decoration, the shaped arms with leaf-carving to the ends which have achieved pleasing wear and patina. Excellent C18th period-style generous proportions and scale, constructed in traditional manner. Good rich colour and period-style patina. Furniture to the designs and taste of Thomas Chippendale saw a fashionable revival during this mid C19th period. (The seats in need of recovering and upholstering, using a fabric of clients' choice and supply, this is included in the price.)
