Description

We are delighted to offer for sale this superb landscape by the Northumberland artist Thomas Henry Gibb, who has signed the painting in the lower left hand corner and also signed and entitled it verso 'A Sunny Afternoon on the Tweed, T. H. Gibb 92'. The painting depicts a rural scene on the banks of the River Tweed, where the river is meandering through a cultivated plain, with rolling hills in the background and a horse-drawn haycart being loaded by a young woman with a pitchfork. The River Tweed is a river in the Scottish Borders and exits into the North Sea at Berwick on Tweed. - THOMAS HENRY GIBB, was a Victorian artist, born c. 1833, in Alnwick, Northumberland, where he lived for the majority of his life. He was the father of the other well known artist Henry William Phelan Gibb 1870-1948. In 1881, he was listed in the census as an Artist and Bailiff of the Alnwick County Council. - He exhibited in the 1880s at the Arthur Tooth Gallery, the Royal Scottish Academy and the Royal Hibernian Academy. He specialised in paintings of Highland lochs and lakeland scenes, often with cattle and animal paintings, often of dogs. There are 9 of his paintings in the National Collec...
