Description

An early 20th Century Omega pocket watch. The watch has a signed stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The serial number is underneath the dial and it reads 2779818 which dates it back to around 1905. There is also a brevet (patent) number of 8760 which relates to an 1895 patent by Louis Brandt, founder of Omega. The movement is protected by an inner hinged cover which is signed with the Omega name, and has images of medals won at the Paris 1900 Grand Prix trade show. The inside of the cover has a sunburst pattern, a good sign of quality as it was an extra expense that would rarely been seen. The watch measures 50mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The watch has a galonne case which is 800 silver with a rose gold wash around the bezel and the edge of the back of the watch. There are Swiss hallmarks inside both of the case backs, together with an early Omega logo. The case is in good condition, just a little rubbing to the rose gold wash. There are a previous owner's initials to the cartouche on the case back. The lens is in good order. The white enamel dial has some very faint short hairline cracks, just about visible with a magnify...
