Description

A very fine quality and rare late 19th century French FIVE-MINUTE REPEATING CARRIAGE CLOCK in perfect working order. Housed in a particularly good and substantial gilded case, the 8-day movement retains its original lever platform; perfect enamel dial and blued steel "moon" hands. It is in perfect working order, and guaranteed for at least two years. What makes this rare is that whilst it strikes hours and half-hours conventionally on a gong, it is fitted with TWO repeat buttons; the front button, when pressed, repeats the previous hour; whilst the rear button repeats the number of 5-minutes that have passed since the hour. 6ins high (handle down); 4ins wide; 3.5ins deep. (15.25 x 10 x 9cms)

Internal Ref: 1270
