Description

Late C18th George III Sheraton period mahogany wall-hanging corner cupboard. Smart architecturally-influenced design mahogany corner cupboard with extensive inlaid satinwood decoration and surmounted by a 'broken-arch' swan-neck pediment. The canted corner sides with broad satinwood inlaid classical fluted pilaster decoration 'stop-fluted' detail. The door with satinwood stringing and 'bats-wing' inlaid spandrel corners. The centre of the cornice /pediment with an oval oak-leaf and acorn inlaid patera. High quality throughout with stepped mouldings around the base and brass rosettes to the pediment. The interior with shaped shelves and later dark green painted decoration (can be re-finished to client's specification). Excellent colour and patina, the rich mahogany forming a striking contrast with the paler satinwood. Probably made in the Northern counties of England. H 51" D 25" W 35" England c.1790
