Description

Antique mahogany Gillow dining table Here we offer you this magnificent mahogany dining table, probably made in the Gillow workshops. This table comes in 3 sections. One end section with a gated dropflap and a central section with a double drop flap. The further end section was made without an attached leaf, so that it could be used elsewhere in the dining room when the full table was not in use. This table is of a superb design as the legs along the side of the table are set in board to enable easy seating. The finely turned and fluted legs are very much in the Gillow manner. The table top is made of Grade 1 mahogany and is of the rich and vibrant colour and figuring you would expect in such a high -end quality dining table. This table would have been originally made circa 1820 PRICE MATCHING Antiques are quite unique as it is impossible to price match.
