Description

This walnut desk from the reign of Queen Victorian is in good condition with the leather replaced and now in antique green with gold tooling. The 9 drawer kneehole desk has two slides under the top to increase the surface area when working, the middle drawer will hold a lap top if required. It has brass handles and rather nice little corbels under the top surface. The sides and the back are all panelled so it is not one that has to go against a wall. It is a good useable size too at 48ins wide and 27ins deep (a little deeper than most 48inch wide examples). The kneehole is wide enough to get your legs in too at 20ins wide and 24ins tall. A good single piece walnut desk with good colour and in nice tidy useable condition. There are a couple of desk chairs available that will go with this desk if required..... Its a good solid item in good condition ready for work, but look great too. Give us a call to discuss 01565 874075
