Description

Large Yew Gate Leg or Wake Table from the Channel Islands. This is a very rare and magnificent table, the table is made from solid Yew, a rare and much prized wood by cabinet makers. This is a large table with double gate leg at each side to support the long deep leaves, it has attractive turned legs and cross members. The table dates from the mid 19th Century and when fully extended has an oval top, this is made from solid planks. The table also has a drawer at one end. The table is in very good condition for its age, it is big enough to seat 10 to 12 diners and has very attractive rule joints giving a good meeting of the leaves. When fully open, the wonderful patina can only be found in Yew with its characteristic burring in the grain. The table stands 30" high, 79" long and 26" wide when closed and 79" long by 66" when fully extended.
