Description

After John Jackson, RA, 1778 – 1831 Portrait of John Wesley 1703 - 1791 founder of Methodism
Signed/Inscribed: C P Monson 1851 oil on canvas 61 x 51cm. (24 x 20in.) This portrait is an early 19th Century portrait painting after the portrait of John Wesley by John Jackson, RA, 1778-1831 currently in the Museum of Methodism, John Wesley's House London. This portrait is signed and dated "C P Monson 1851". Notes Wesley [Westley], John (1703–1791), Church of England clergyman and a founder of Methodism, was born on 17 June 1703 at Epworth rectory, Lincolnshire, the thirteenth or fourteenth child and the second of three sons to reach maturity of Samuel Wesley (bap. 1662, d. 1735), rector of Epworth, and his wife, Susanna Wesley (1669–1742), daughter of Samuel Annesley and his second wife, Mary. He was baptized on 3 July at Epworth church (that he was named John Benjamin at his baptism, as sometimes stated, is a nineteenth-century error). Samuel still spelt the family name Westley in 1694 and others occasionally did so later. Both parents, though children of dissenting ministers, ejected in 1662, became high-church Anglicans early in life, and puritan influence on John's up...
