Description

This walnut dressing table from the reign of Queen Victoria is in lovely restored condition. Super colour and finish. The cabinet furniture is all original and some of the drawers carry the brass label of Liverpool cabinet makers Samuel Cutter who were on Bold Street in Liverpool. This dressing table certainly does not lack quality, well detailed turned leg with reeding detail and equally well detailed mirror and mirror supports. This has four very useful little trinket drawers for all the bits and pieces. table top is 75cms off the ground There is a good dressing table chair also in walnut that could go with this if required, but that is one of a number of suitable ones we have in stock.
